

THE Art Economist

The Art Economist profiles local Santa Fe Artist, Sherry Levine

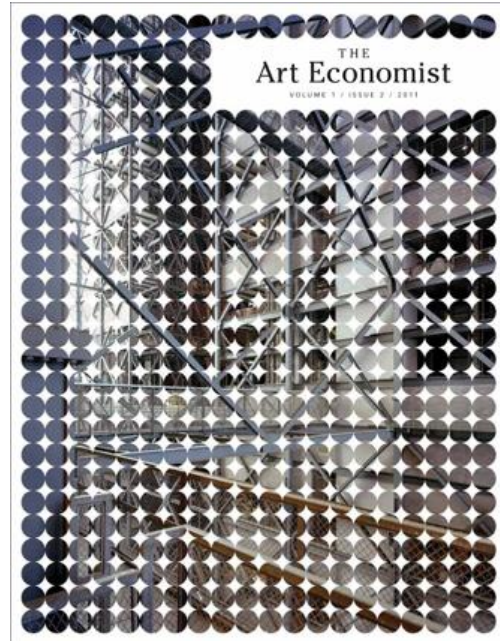

Dateline: February 7, 2010

Santa Fe, New Mexico

The Art Economist Co., publishers of The Art Economist magazine, with Subscriber Services operations located in Santa Fe, New Mexico, is proud to profile local Santa Fe artist, Sherry Levine, in our latest issue. The Art Economist publishes a monthly ranking of the top 300 contemporary artists, and each issue profiles 30 of the Top 300.

Ms. Levine is currently ranked at 139 on the list and is profiled in the current issue. The many international collections that have her work include the Guggenheim, MOMA, Broad Art Foundation, LACMA, the Walker, MAMCO Geneva and Museum Ludwig. She has had solo exhibitions at SFMOMA, the Getty, Menil Collection and Philadelphia Museum of Art.

The Whitney is preparing Levine's first retrospective, which is scheduled to open in 2011. Her group shows include Documenta in 1982, three Whitney Biennials and others at Portikus Frankfurt, the Israel Museum and Moderna Museet Stockholm. Levine is represented by Paula Cooper Gallery, which offered her latest solo show in 2010.

The Art Economist is an elegant, critically informative publication serving as a constructive tool for art collectors, museums and galleries to ascertain transparency of art value in the global contemporary art market. Subscribers receive the benefits of having a monthly ranking of the top 300 contemporary artists and at least thirty analytical reviews of their work and its strategic value.

The Art Economist is rich with articles showcasing up and coming artists, as well as features and interviews from seminal leaders in the industry. The Art Economist is an entertaining and informative magazine for the serious art collector, but it also clarifies investment opportunities in the high ROI world of contemporary art.

For more information, please visit our website at www.thearteconomist.com or contact:

Chris Winfield, press relations, press@thearteconomist.com or +1 505.820.6688.